

REFUND POLICY

Payment by MasterCard/Visa Merchant is immediately authorized by an online payment gateway, provided that all details are correctly captured.

The price of subscriptions may be changed, at the sole discretion of 6cents, and without prior notice to the customer. However, every effort shall be made to communicate any price changes before they become effective.

6cents shall issue a refund to the original funding source. Should the funding source account be closed, the account holder should notify 6cents of such account changes and provide the necessary proof thereof.

A refund will only be payable should a payment be deducted double or different from the agreed amount. In such case, the difference will be refunded in full. However, where it's deemed appropriate, 6cents may consider refunding the client without the prior knowledge of the user.

No responsibility shall be assumed by 6cents for the fraudulent use of Credit Card details, Expiry Dates, User Details and CSV numbers. The user agrees to indemnify and hold 6cents harmless from any liability or loss incurred whilst transacting online.
